

I would DISALLOW the use of electric power lines to distribute broadband. This use would adversely affect current users of the radio spectrum. Other countries such as Japan have decided not to allow this use at this time.